

Come walk with me

Come walk with me and find rest for your soul
here by my side you'll be blessed and made whole again
peace for your life when it's broken apart,
the wonder of my endless love restored in your heart.

Oh, how I long for my love to be yours
All that I give you will make you secure in me light for our journey, the promise of grace, the beauty of my spirit shining over your face.

Let me dry your tears drive away your fears when your heart is crying in the night
I will be your strength
I will be your guide
I will lead you on into the light

Come walk with me and find rest for your soul
here by my side you'll be blessed and made whole again
peace for your life when it's broken apart,
the wonder of my endless love restored in your heart.
