

Even Me

I've heard it all my life, even had it memorized.
But it was only words to me;
red letters on a page, just something people say,
'til it brought me to my knees, those words in John three sixteen.

For God so loved the world He gave, gave His only Son away;
away to save a wretch like me.
Me, the one who needed grace, grace to cover ev'ry stain,
stains that He no longer sees.
It's amazing to believe that God so loved the world means even me.

How could He see my sin and forgive me even then?
Who would pay that kind of price?
I've seen what mercy does, He found me where I was,
and He gave His life for mine.

For God so loved the world He gave, gave His only Son away;
away to save a wretch like me.
Me, the one who needed grace, grace to cover ev'ry stain,
stains that He no longer sees.
It's amazing to believe that God so loved the world means even me.
Me, with all my failures, me, with all my shame.
It's the very reason Jesus came.
For God so loved the world He gave, gave His only Son away;
away to save a wretch like me.

For God so loved the world He gave, gave His only Son away;
away to save a wretch like me.
Me, the one who needed grace, grace to cover ev'ry stain,
stains that He no longer sees.
It's amazing to believe, it's so amazing to believe that God so loved the world means even me, even me!
God so loved the world means even me!
