Lord, I looked through my child`s eyes today, and Lord, I looked upon You
There You shone like the sunrise today, right there I was made new
And now I see your love for me, it burns for me eternally
Now always deep inside of me You`ll be

Lord, let me see your power fall just like this, let me know You paid it all just like this
And You stand before me holy and mighty, dressed in your glory
Let me always see You just like this
Let me always see You just like this

Now I look through my child`s eyes at You; no end to what You can do
Lord, You reign as supreme Majesty, and still died just for me
And now I see your love for me, it burns for me eternally
Now always deep inside of me You`ll be

Lord, let me see your power fall just like this, let me know You paid it all just like this
And You stand before me holy and mighty, dressed in your glory
Let me always see You just like this
Just like this
